Ernest J. Lescoe, while driving his coupe to the Elks' carnival in Rockville Thursday night had a close call when the car overturned in attempting to make the sharp turn at Starkham's corner. Three other occupants in the car, Patrick Connell, Ralph Lescoe, and Arthur Welch were uninjured except that Welch sustained cuts on his right hand. In making the turn one of the occupants of the car suddenly believed himself on the wrong road, attempted to swing the car onto the other road when it struck a stone and turned on its side, breaking the steering gear and smashing both right fenders. It was towed to Leonard's garage for repairs.

Michael * died was fined $25 and costs in the Columbia court, Friday morning. $29 was remitted and a total of $32.49 was paid. The sentence was imposed after Judge N. P. COLCHESTER

Wednesday evening at the meeting of Oliver Wadhouse lodge, No. 51, K. of P., there was the presentation of veteran jewels and past chancellor jewels. There was a large attendance of members of the order and their friends. The program was as follows: Selection by the school orchestra, conducted by Earle Holmes, cornet, E. A. Carrier, violin, Mrs. Debie, pianist, and Leo White, trap drums; singing of America by all; Invocation, Rev. W. O. Berckman; cornet solo, Mr. Holmes; Mrs. Debie, pianist; vocal solo, Mrs. Brucker; selection, orchestra; address, Grand Chancellor William Cowlishaw of New Britain; presentation of jewels, H. Roger Jones of New Hartford; address, Grand Keeper of Records and Seals George E. Wright of Hartford; Mrs. Whitaker of Stamford, grand chief of honor, Pythian Sisters; Rev. Samuel Thatcher of East Hampton, William Morgan of Rock Fall, grand inner guard; selection, orchestra. After the speechmaking a lunch was served. The jewels were presented to H. Kallgren, S. F. McIntosh and William Curgenven. These brothers were charter members of the lodge. There were 12 past chancellors jewels given. 75 local members of lodges in New Britain and Hartford were present. After the exercises and during the lunch the visiting Pythian Sisters went through the audience soliciting members for forming a lodge of the order here. A good number was secured and the institution of a temple here is assured. All who attended voted it one of the pleasantest nights that they have spent in years. The address of H. Roger Jones was one of the best that has been heard here and he was loudly applauded. The vocal selections by Mrs. Brooks were exceptionally fine.
